Capture Marine, LLC will provide a detailed quote for each case and obtain your approval before proceeding. Some general guidelines for charges that may be incurred include skip-tracing or locating the vessel (usually a percentage of the vessel's book value), a command and possession fee (usually based on the length of the vessel assessed as a cost per foot), and a delivery fee (based on the crew required and number of days to deliver). If we are forced to incur other fees such as slip fees or repair fees that are in arrears, those are passed on with no mark up to the customer. Other necessary expenses such as fuel or tow boat fees will also be passed on with no mark up and are usually communicated to the lien holder prior to action being taken. Payment terms are net 30 upon delivery of the vessel to its destination for resale. Any fees for the sale will be taken out of the sale proceeds at closing.
